

Cocktail hour - and the things you can eat with it

Published October 4, 2008

By Jackie Rooney

Rooney Bin The Shorelines Florida Times Union

- The Ponte Vedra Women's Golf Association is doing its part with the second Pink Ribbon Golf Classic, Thursday, Oct. 23, on the Ocean and Lagoon courses at the Ponte Vedra Inn & Club. The association hopes to double the $37,000 raised for breast cancer research at Mayo Clinic at last year's all-women tournament followed by an awards luncheon at the club. An added enticement to play is the promise of hole-in-one prizes: two Vespas and, courtesy of Arlington Toyota, a Prius and a Camry. Each participant will receive a gorgeous pashimina.

Guest speakers will be cosmetic surgeon John Harris talking about breast reconstruction, and Fran Palmieri, manager of Mayo Clinic Jacksonville Breast Cancer Clinic. Christmas ornaments designed by a breast cancer survivor will be for sale, and there will be a trunk show of Ralph Lauren's new "pink collection" of golf and resort attire. Top sponsors are Kathy and Brady Rackley, the Inn & Club and Legacy Trust. A $125 per player entry fee includes prizes and lunch. To be a sponsor and/or to register, call Betty Paxson at 285-4801 or e-mail paxsonwesbeth@comcast.net.

Jackie Rooney is a freelance writer. To contact her, please e-mail rooneybin@comcast.net. Or call 249-4947. Or fax 280-1899.